Rape Crisis Center Launches New Website

Las Vegas – April 2, 2009 – The Rape Crisis Center launched a new website, www.therapecrisiscenter.org, to better serve victims of sexual assault and their families. The new website provides support options, resources, and information on preventative programs, such as the Child Assault Prevention (CAP) for empowering children and Partysmart, a program that provides tips on how to safely have a good time while at nightclubs and other social situations.

The site also offers resources for niche communities; there's a Spanish Language link for Latino clients and a support page for victims in the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community.

For those in the community who want to get involved with The Rape Crisis Center the website has a secure donation button, sponsorship opportunities, and a page for planned giving. Potential interns and volunteers can get information on volunteer training and download the necessary applications.

“We are always looking for ways to better serve our clients and supporters,” said Louise “Lu” Torres, executive director for The Rape Crisis Center. “Our new website is one more step in bringing awareness out to all members of the community.”

The Rape Crisis Center provides crisis intervention, advocacy, support and education to those affected by sexual violence. Advocates are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to provide support and answer questions. The center welcomes calls from partners, family members and friends of rape and sexual victims.
